Thu Oct 22: And we're off

4:00am EDT · Early ride to Tampa Airport

Booked: UberX through Uber Reserve, 4:00am pickup. About a 10-minute drive to Delta at the Blue Terminal, so you reach TPA around 4:10 for the 6:00am flight.

Getting there

1. Uber pickup at 4:00am (booked in the Uber app).
2. At TPA, check in with Delta for DL2884 at 6:00am.

Good to know

For the return ride, avoid a fixed pickup only 20 minutes after landing. Use a flight-linked airport pickup with an appropriate baggage buffer, or request a ride once you have your bags.

6:00am EDT · Tampa (TPA) → Detroit (DTW) · DL2884

Delta DL2884, Airbus A321. 2 hours 43 minutes direct to Detroit Metro Airport. Short, comfortable domestic leg.

Food & cost

Snack service on the domestic flight. Eat a real breakfast at TPA or Detroit if hungry.

Good to know

Set your watches and phones to Tokyo time (JST) when you board. Japan is 13 hours ahead of EDT.

8:43am EDT · Layover in Detroit (DTW)

Enough time for a proper meal, walking the terminal, and relaxing before the long haul. DTW is a clean, manageable airport. Gate area for the international flight has decent food options.

Food & cost

Have a real meal here — you're about to sit on a plane for 13.5 hours. Detroit has good airport dining options. Fuel up properly.

1:45pm EDT · Detroit (DTW) → Tokyo Haneda (HND) · DL275

Delta DL275, Airbus A350-900. 13 hours 30 minutes. The A350-900 is one of the best economy aircraft flying — wider seats than average, better cabin air quality, lower altitude pressure, quieter engine. Noticeably better than older widebodies for a long haul.

Food & cost

Full meal service included on the international leg. Delta serves meals, snacks, and beverages throughout the flight.

Good to know

Hydrate constantly. Get up and walk the aisle every 2-3 hours. Compression socks are genuinely worth wearing. Sleep as much as you can on Tokyo time.

Fri Oct 23: Our first night in Tokyo

~4:15pm JST · Land at Tokyo Haneda (HND)

Clear immigration, collect luggage and pass customs. Timing is variable; do not tie dinner to a fixed airport exit time.

Good to know

Before you leave the plane: in Settings → Cellular, turn on the Ubigi eSIM, make it your Cellular Data line, and turn Data Roaming on for it. Leave your US line on for texts but keep its data roaming off. Ubigi's plan starts counting when it first connects here.

~5:45pm JST · Train from Haneda to the hotel

The Keikyu train from Terminal 3 runs straight onto the Toei Asakusa Line. Stay on it to Higashi-ginza (about 31–36 minutes), take the elevator up, and walk about 8 minutes. ¥547 each on Suica. City-bound trains leave every 10–12 minutes in the evening.

Getting there

1. After customs you come out in the 2nd-floor Arrival Lobby of Terminal 3. Follow the red "Keikyu Line" signs, a few minutes on the same floor.
2. Tap your phone (Suica) at the gate for Platform 2, toward Shinagawa and the city. Take the elevator down to the platform.
3. Check the destination on the departure board. Departure boards switch between Japanese and English every few seconds, so wait a moment for the English. Get on a train going to Oshiage, Aoto, Keisei-Takasago, Narita Airport, Imba Nihon-idai or Shibayama-

Chiyoda. Do NOT take trains ending at Shinagawa or Sengakuji, or going to Yokohama, Zushi·Hayama, Kanazawa-bunko or Keikyu Kurihama.

4. Stay on the whole way, about 31–36 minutes. After Shinagawa it becomes the Toei Asakusa Line, but you do not change trains. The screen above the doors shows the next stop in English.
5. Get off at Higashi-ginza, the stop after Shimbashi. Trains arrive on Platform 2.
6. Follow the yellow exit signs for "A1" (look for the elevator symbol), tap out at the gate, and take the street elevator up next to Exit A1.
7. Walk about 8 minutes (open the map): along Harumi-dori past the Ginza 4-chome crossing and the Wako clock tower, then left onto Namiki-dori. Cross Miyuki-dori; Hyatt Centric is just ahead on the right. Lobby elevators at street level go up to reception on 4F.

Good to know

Check that the departure board or staff confirms this specific train stops at Higashi-ginza. Train service names can change along through routes; do not decide solely from 'Airport Limited Express'. Show staff: 東銀座に行きますか？

~6:45pm JST · Check in · Hyatt Centric Ginza

Reception is on 4F (take the lobby elevator from Namiki-dori). Check in, drop the bags, and freshen up. Dinner is a short walk away.

Good to know

Ask for a quiet room on a high floor, away from the construction nearby. Hotel breakfast (NAMIKI667) is ¥8,855 each, so the plan eats out each morning.

7:30pm JST · Kushiyaki Bistro Fukumimi, Ginza (yakitori)

Arrive by 7:30pm

Booked: Fri Oct 23, 7:30pm, 2 people, seats only (Tabelog; confirmation in your email). Yakitori (charcoal-grilled chicken skewers) in a warm room of wood booths and lantern light, in the basement of the Tobu Ginza Daiichi Building (Ginza 6-14-5, B1F), a 5–6 minute walk from the hotel. English menu with photos. You take your shoes off at the entrance. Card or phone payment only, no cash.

> Keep in mind
>
> Flight delayed? Contact the restaurant using your private Tabelog confirmation. The table may be released after 15 minutes; do not assume the grace period is extra arrival time.

Getting there

1. Leave the hotel and walk about 5–6 minutes toward Showa-dori to the Tobu Ginza Daiichi Building, Ginza 6-14-5 (open the map; the pin takes you to the door).
2. Go down to B1F and give your name for the 7:30 booking.

Food & cost

Order skewers à la carte, or their ¥3,850-per-person set (4 special skewers plus their popular dishes, 11 items). Plus a ¥660-per-person table charge. About ¥8,000–10,000 for two with a drink each.

Good to know

Keep your Tabelog confirmation and cancellation terms privately on both phones. Verify that the superseded KABEAT reservation has been cancelled.

Sat Oct 24: Old Tokyo & a little adventure

7:00–7:35am JST · Breakfast at Furutoshi

A beautiful hotel dining room on 2F of Solaria Nishitetsu Hotel Ginza (Ginza 4-9-2), about 5 minutes from your hotel. Weekend breakfast is a half-buffet with a main dish, plus their famous fruit sandwiches, about ¥2,800 each. Breakfast can't be booked, so arrive right at 7:00 when it opens (Saturday breakfast 7:00–10:00).

Getting there

1. Walk about 5 minutes to the Solaria Nishitetsu Hotel Ginza, Ginza 4-9-2, near the Ginza 4-chome crossing (open the map).
2. Take the elevator to 2F, Furutoshi, and ask for breakfast for two.

Food & cost

A full breakfast each.

Good to know

If there is a wait: Ginza Choshoku Lab (Hotel Musse Ginza Meitetsu 2F, Ginza 7-12-9) also opens at 7:00, or St. Marc Café on Miyuki-dori for a quick morning set.

7:40am JST · Train to Asakusa

One subway, no changes: the Ginza Line from Ginza Station, 10 stops to Asakusa, the end of the line.

Getting there

1. From Furutoshi, walk about 3 minutes back to the Ginza 4-chome crossing and go down any Ginza Station entrance with the orange "G" (Ginza Line) sign.

2. Tap in and go to Platform 2, signed "for Asakusa". Every train on it goes to Asakusa.
3. Ride 10 stops (about 17 minutes) to Asakusa, the last stop.
4. Follow the signs for "Kaminarimon" and go up Exit 1.
5. The big red Kaminarimon gate with the giant lantern is about a minute away (open the map).

Good to know

Rule for every subway: before you tap in, check the sign over the gate or stairs shows the station you are heading toward. If you went through the wrong gate, ask the staff window to cancel your entry.

8:15–9:45am JST · Senso-ji Temple + Asakusa streets

Explore the temple, Kaminarimon and Nakamise before the crowds build. The Nakamise snack stalls (ningyo-yaki, fried manju, grilled senbei, melon-pan) open from about 9, so see the temple first and snack on the way out; eat beside the stall, not while walking. No religious participation is needed.

~9:30am · on the way out JST · Nakamise street stalls

Snack your way back down Nakamise after the temple: ningyo-yaki, fried manju, grilled senbei, Kagetsudo’s melon-pan by the gate. Stalls open from about 9. Eat beside the stall, not while walking.

Food & cost

A couple of snacks each; lunch is at noon.

10:00–10:20am JST · Hokkaido Milk Bar, Asakusa

All-Hokkaido dairy on the Nishi-Sando shopping street, three minutes west of the temple (Asakusa 2-7-13): soft serve, milk pudding, a three-milk tasting flight (¥880), cream buns. Opens 10:00 (some listings say 9:00–9:30 on weekends).

Food & cost

One soft serve or pudding each, about ¥700–1,100 per person.

~11:00am–Noon JST · Walk across the river to Skytree

A flat 30-minute walk over the river. Skytree is in front of you most of the way. Arrival is flexible within your ticket terms; allow extra walking time from the Milk Bar. Shorten shopping later if you want longer inside.

Getting there

1. From the Milk Bar, walk back to the big red Kaminarimon gate (8–10 minutes).
2. With the gate behind you, turn left and walk to the river. Cross Azuma Bridge, the red bridge; the gold Asahi Beer building is on the far side.
3. Keep straight on the main road (Asakusa-dori) for about 15 minutes, toward Skytree.
4. At the Narihira 1-chome crossing, turn left and walk about 150 m to Tokyo Solamachi (West Yard).
5. Go in and take the escalator or elevator to 5F. The Sumida Aquarium entrance is there.

Good to know

Tired feet? Tap the map link and choose transit instead; it is one short stop. Have your aquarium tickets open on your phone.

10:45am–Noon JST · Sumida Aquarium

Tickets bought for Saturday October 24. Allow about 75–90 minutes; opens 9:00 on Saturdays. Show the QR code from your email at the gate.

Good to know

Tickets are non-refundable, but the date can be changed on the aquarium site if plans move.

Noon–1:00pm JST · Rokurinsha tsukemen, Solamachi

Your chosen Saturday lunch: thick tsukemen noodles with a separate rich dipping broth. Solamachi 6F, roughly 5–10 minutes inside the complex from the aquarium, excluding queues. No reservations. Allow ¥3,000–4,000 for two as a meal allowance, not a fixed menu quote.

Food & cost

One full noodle order each. If hungry earlier, bring a bakery snack; gelato is optional, not a meal replacement.

1:00–2:50pm JST · Shopping: Tokyo Solamachi

Browse the big shopping complex at the foot of Skytree: Japanese souvenirs, snacks, crafts and character shops. Shops are open until 9pm per the official site.

2:50pm JST · Walk to JAPANKART

A 10-minute walk on small side streets. Use Google Maps walking directions for this one.

Getting there

1. Tap "Open destination in Google Maps" below, then Directions → Walking.
2. Leave Solamachi from the West Yard side (the Tokyo Skytree West crossing).
3. Follow the map about 10 minutes west, toward the river. The shop is JAPANKART SkyTree Branch, 2-18-15 Azumabashi, near the Genmori-bashi bridge.
4. Get there by 3:15. Have both US licenses, both driving permits and both passports in hand.

3:15–4:45pm JST · JAPANKART go-karts · 60 min driving

Arrive by 3:15pm

Booked for Saturday October 24 at 3:30pm: the 60-minute tour for two, ¥20,000 paid. Allow about 90 minutes on site: check in and safety briefing from 3:15, driving 3:30–4:30, then costumes back and guide photos. Starts and ends at the shop at 2-18-15 Azumabashi and drives through Ueno, Akihabara, Kappabashi and Asakusa; you finish near sunset (about 4:50). Costumes and photos included.

> Keep in mind
>
> Both drivers: original passport, US license and 1949 Geneva Convention IDP. Closed-toe shoes. Missing documents can mean no driving and no refund.

Good to know

⚠️ Be at the shop by 3:15, 15 minutes early. You have your IDPs — bring them. Both drivers must bring three originals: your US driver's license (no temporary or paper licenses), an International Driving Permit under the 1949 Geneva Convention (from AAA), and your passport. Missing documents means no driving and no refund.

4:50pm JST · Train to Nihonbashi for dinner

Walk back over Azuma Bridge, then the Ginza Line straight into Takashimaya's basement. Asakusa is the end of the line, so every train goes the right way.

Getting there

1. Walk about 9 minutes back across Azuma Bridge, the red bridge, toward Asakusa. At the far end, go down Ginza Line Entrance 4 (orange "G" signs).
2. Tap in and take any Ginza Line train. Asakusa is the first stop, so all trains go the right way.
3. Ride 8 stops (about 15 minutes) and get off at Nihombashi.
4. Follow the signs for "Takashimaya" and Exit B2. It leads straight into Takashimaya's basement, no street walk.
5. Take an elevator in the Main Building up to 8F. Tenichi is on that floor; walk in and ask for a table for two.

~5:20pm JST · Tenichi tempura, Nihonbashi Takashimaya

Seafood and vegetable tempura fried piece by piece, on Takashimaya's 8F (dinner from 5pm, table last order 8pm). This branch has no online booking, so walk in straight from the go-karts: arriving around 5:20 on a Saturday beats the dinner rush. Published Fuji dinner set ¥3,850 each.

Food & cost

Tempura with rice and sides. ¥7,700 for two Fuji sets, plus drinks; counter course is the upgrade.

Good to know

If there’s a line, put your name down and browse Takashimaya. Optional: calling +81-3-3272-3677 (answered 10:00pm–8:30am Eastern) locks in a table.

~7:00pm JST · Takashimaya → hotel

Ginza Line from Nihombashi, 2 stops to Ginza, then a 3-minute walk.

Getting there

1. Take the elevator down to Takashimaya’s basement and follow the signs into Nihombashi Station and the orange "G" Ginza Line.
2. Tap in and go to the platform signed "for Shibuya".
3. Ride 2 stops (about 3 minutes) and get off at Ginza.
4. Follow the signs for Exit B6. Come up at Exit B6 (or B5) on Harumi-dori. Walk along Namiki-dori away from Harumi-dori, cross Miyuki-dori, and the hotel is just ahead on the right, about 3 minutes. Lobby elevators at street level go up to reception on 4F.

Sun Oct 25: Art, owls & omakase

6:40am JST · FamilyMart breakfast

The 24-hour FamilyMart at Ginza 5-9-13, about 4 minutes from the hotel: sandwich, yogurt and a drink. Eat at the hotel before the 7:05 subway.

Food & cost

A filling egg or ham sandwich, yogurt or fruit, and a drink. Add a pastry if needed.

7:05am JST · Train to teamLab Planets

Walk to Ginza-itchome, then the Yurakucho Line 3 stops to Toyosu and a 10-minute walk. You arrive around 7:40 for your 8:00 entry.

Getting there

1. Leave the hotel and turn left on Namiki-dori. Walk straight up Namiki-dori to its end in Ginza 1-chome (about 8 minutes), then turn left one block to Sotobori-dori.
2. Go down Ginza-itchome Station Exit 3 or 4 (gold "Y", Yurakucho Line).
3. Tap in and go to Platform 1, signed "for Shin-kiba".
4. Ride 3 stops (about 6 minutes) and get off at Toyosu.
5. Take Exit 7. At street level, follow the elevated Yurikamome tracks; teamLab Planets is on the right after about 10 minutes.
6. Have your 8:00 tickets open on your phone.

Good to know

Running late? A taxi from the hotel is about 15 minutes and ¥2,500–3,000. Show the driver this address (Japanese, so you do not need to read it): チームラボプラネッツ TOKYO（江東区豊洲6-1-16）.

8:00am JST · teamLab Planets, Toyosu

Arrive by 7:45am

Sunday October 25, 8:00am entry. Leave the hotel at 7:05am and aim to arrive by 7:40–7:45am. Allow 2–2.5 hours inside; lunch afterward is flexible, but the owl café is not.

Good to know

Wear clothing suitable for water and mirrored rooms.

~10:30am JST · Head to Akihabara for lunch

Walk to Toyosu, take the Yurakucho Line to Yurakucho, then transfer to JR for Akihabara. Allow for the walk between Metro and JR stations, train waits, and the walk to the restaurant. If teamLab runs long, skip the shrine and protect your 12:50 owl-café arrival.

Getting there

1. From teamLab, walk about 11 minutes to Toyosu Station (Yurakucho Line, gold "Y"). Use the map in Google Maps.
2. Tap in and take the Yurakucho Line toward Ikebukuro / Wakoshi. Ride 4 stops to Yurakucho.
3. Follow the signs for "JR Lines" to JR Yurakucho Station and tap through the JR gate.
4. Take the Yamanote Line (light green) on Platform 2, for Tokyo / Ueno. Ride 3 stops to Akihabara.

5. Leave by the "Electric Town Exit" (signed in English). Gyukatsu Ichinisan is about 6 minutes' walk, down in the basement of 3-8-17 Sotokanda; follow the map.

~11:15am–12:10pm JST · Gyukatsu Ichinisan, Akihabara

Beef cutlet fried 60 seconds and served rare; you sear the slices yourself on a hot stone at the counter, with wasabi-soy, rock salt and barley rice. Sotokanda 3-8-17, basement, a minute from Suehirocho Station. Open 11:00–22:00, 13 counter seats, no reservations; Queues are unpredictable. Ask about the wait before joining.

> Keep in mind
>
> Queue cutoff: if you are not seated by 11:45, switch to a quick meal near Akihabara Station. Finish eating by 12:20 and head directly to the owl café. The shrine is optional.

Food & cost

Sets ¥1,630 (130g), ¥2,300 (195g) or ¥2,760 (260g) each, tax included.

Good to know

Fallback: a quick sandwich/pastry meal or convenience-store lunch near Akihabara Station. Choose something immediately available rather than joining another queue.

12:10–12:35pm JST · Kanda Myojin shrine

Visit only if lunch is finished early enough. Skip entirely if delayed: the owl café requires arrival by 12:50. Do not squeeze it in at the expense of a booked session.

1:00–2:00pm JST · Akiba Fukurou owl café

Arrive by 12:50pm

Booked for Sunday October 25 at 1:00pm: an hour with about 40 owls; staff guide you to touch them and, in most sessions, rest one on your arm. Photos welcome, no flash. Kanda Neribeicho 67, 2–3 minutes from JR Akihabara. ¥3,800 each.

Good to know

Arrive by 12:50. The door does not open once a session starts.

2:05pm JST · Train back to the hotel

Hibiya Line from Akihabara, 7 stops to Ginza, then a 3-minute walk.

Getting there

1. From the owl café, walk east to the big street (Showa-dori) and cross it. Turn right and walk about 3 minutes to Hibiya Line Entrance 2, just past Karaoke Kan. About 8 minutes in all.
2. Tap in and go to Platform 1, signed "for Naka-meguro".
3. Ride 7 stops (about 13 minutes) and get off at Ginza.
4. Follow the signs for Exit B6. Come up at Exit B6 (or B5) on Harumi-dori. Walk along Namiki-dori away from Harumi-dori, cross Miyuki-dori, and the hotel is just ahead on the right, about 3 minutes. Lobby elevators at street level go up to reception on 4F.

2:30–4:30pm JST · Rest and change for dinner

A proper rest after the 6:15 start, then change into dinner clothes for the omakase.

4:25pm JST · Head to Manten Sushi

Ginza Line 3 stops to Mitsukoshimae; COREDO Muromachi is connected to the station.

Getting there

1. Leave the hotel, turn left on Namiki-dori, cross Miyuki-dori, and go down Ginza Station Exit B6 at the Harumi-dori corner (about 3 minutes). Follow the orange "G" (Ginza Line) signs.
2. Tap in and go to Platform 2, signed "for Asakusa". Ride near the back of the train.
3. Ride 3 stops (about 5 minutes) and get off at Mitsukoshimae.
4. Follow the signs for Exit A6 (COREDO Muromachi), about 2 minutes.
5. Manten Sushi is on the 1st floor of COREDO Muromachi 2, with its door on the building's outside wall.

5:00–6:30pm JST · Manten Sushi, Nihonbashi (omakase)

Arrive by 4:50pm

Booked for Sunday October 25 at 5:00pm: the 90-minute counter omakase, ¥8,800 a person (¥12,100 with drinks). Three Ginza Line stops from the hotel. Same-day cancellation or party-size changes are charged in full.

Food & cost

Omakase for two; allow ¥17,600–24,200 plus any extra drinks.

Good to know

Skip strong perfume; the counter asks guests to avoid it.

6:30pm JST · Back to the hotel

Ginza Line from Mitsukoshimae, 3 stops back to Ginza.

Getting there

1. Go back in at Mitsukoshimae Exit A6 and follow the orange "G" Ginza Line signs.
2. Tap in and go to the platform signed "for Shibuya".
3. Ride 3 stops and get off at Ginza.
4. Follow the signs for Exit B6. Come up at Exit B6 (or B5) on Harumi-dori. Walk along Namiki-dori away from Harumi-dori, cross Miyuki-dori, and the hotel is just ahead on the right, about 3 minutes. Lobby elevators at street level go up to reception on 4F.

Mon Oct 26: A day at DisneySea

6:20am JST · FamilyMart breakfast

Pick up a filling breakfast at the 24-hour FamilyMart at Ginza 5-9-13, about 4 minutes from the hotel. Prefer buying it the night before so you can eat at the hotel before leaving at 6:35.

Food & cost

A filling egg or ham sandwich, yogurt or fruit, and a drink. Add a pastry if needed.

6:35am JST · Off to DisneySea

Hibiya Line 3 stops to Hatchobori, change to the JR Keiyo Line 5 stops to Maihama, then the Disney Resort Line monorail 3 stops. You reach the gate around 7:30.

Getting there

1. Leave the hotel, turn left on Namiki-dori, cross Miyuki-dori, and go down Ginza Station Exit B6 at the Harumi-dori corner (about 3 minutes). Follow the gray "H" (Hibiya Line) signs.
2. Tap in and go to Platform 6, signed "for Kita-senju". Ride in the last car.
3. Ride 3 stops (about 6 minutes) and get off at Hatchobori.
4. Follow the "JR Keiyo Line" transfer signs: up the stairs, tap out at the Metro gate, then through the passage to the JR gate (B1) and tap in. About 5–8 minutes.
5. Take the escalators down to Platform 1: "Keiyo Line, for Maihama & Soga". Every early-morning train stops at Maihama.

6. Ride 5 stops (about 14 minutes) and get off at Maihama.
7. Go down one floor, out through the South Exit gate, and turn left. Follow the "Tokyo DisneySea" signs to Resort Gateway Station (about 2 minutes).
8. Tap your phone to ride the Disney Resort Line monorail (¥300 each). It only goes one way round.
9. Ride 3 stops (about 9 minutes) to "Tokyo DisneySea Station". The main entrance is right in front of you.

Good to know

Walking from Maihama to DisneySea instead is about 18 flat minutes, but the monorail is easier on a long day.

At park opening JST · First priority ride at park opening

Admission is booked for Monday October 26. Link both tickets in the Tokyo Disney Resort app beforehand. After entering together, check current operating rides and optional Disney Premier Access. Choose your highest-priority available ride first, allowing time to reach Horizon Bay for 5:20pm. Fantasy Springs currently permits ordinary queues; paid Premier Access is optional for eligible rides.

Good to know

Park hours vary by date; check the official calendar the week before and be at the gate about an hour before opening.

Late morning JST · Rides: Lost River Delta + Arabian Coast

Explore operating attractions in Lost River Delta and Arabian Coast, grouping nearby rides. Indiana Jones is closed through November 29, 2026, so do not plan to ride it. Check the app for today's other closures and wait times.

When hungry JST · Lunch wherever you are, via the app

No planned lunch: order at whatever counter is near your rides through the Disney app.

Food & cost

Counter-service lunch and snacks, ordered in the app.

Afternoon JST · Rides: Fantasy Springs + other priorities

Fantasy Springs has normal attraction queues, with optional paid Premier Access for eligible rides. Use the app's current rules, waits and availability rather than assuming a Standby Pass is required. Avoid return times that conflict with your 5:20pm dinner.

5:20–6:30pm JST · Horizon Bay Restaurant

Arrive by 5:10pm

Booked: Priority Seating for 2 on Monday October 26 at 5:20pm, in Ashley's Disney account. A seated Western-style dinner in Port Discovery. Arrive together by 5:20 and give the cast member the reservation number and Ashley's name; you pay at the restaurant.

Food & cost

Western-style set menus, paid at the restaurant. Priority Seating is separate from your admission.

Good to know

The reservation number is in the Disney confirmation email Ashley forwarded on Sep 30. Change or cancel online up to 1 hour before (My Booking on the Disney reservations site). Arriving after 5:20 can cancel the booking.

6:30–7:30pm JST · Last rides, then leave the park

Aim to leave about 7:30 if you want an early night. If the nighttime show matters to you, check the official October 26 schedule and weather before choosing: its start time is not assumed to be 9pm. Allow about an hour or more to reach the hotel, including queues and waits.

~7:30pm JST · Back to Ginza

Monorail 1 stop to Resort Gateway, JR Keiyo Line 5 stops to Hatchobori, then the Hibiya Line 3 stops to Ginza.

Getting there

1. At Tokyo DisneySea Station, tap your phone and ride the monorail 1 stop to Resort Gateway (about 4 minutes).
2. Walk about 2 minutes to JR Maihama Station and tap in.
3. Go to Platform 2: "Keiyo Line, for Shin-Kiba & Tokyo". Every train goes the right way.
4. Ride 5 stops (about 14 minutes) and get off at Hatchobori, the stop before Tokyo.
5. Tap out at the JR gate and follow the gray "H" (Hibiya Line) signs to the Metro gate, about 5–8 minutes. Tap in and go to the platform signed "for Naka-meguro".
6. Ride 3 stops and get off at Ginza. Follow the signs for Exit B6. Come up at Exit B6 (or B5) on Harumi-dori. Walk along Namiki-dori away from Harumi-dori, cross Miyuki-dori, and the hotel is just ahead on the right, about 3 minutes. Lobby elevators at street level go up to reception on 4F.

Good to know

If you miss Hatchobori you end up at Tokyo, the last stop. Ride one stop back to Hatchobori.

Tue Oct 27: Tokyo treats & sunset views

7:15am JST · Walk to Tsukiji for breakfast

Skip breakfast near the hotel; the market is breakfast. A flat 15-minute walk along Harumi-dori, past the Kabukiza theater.

Getting there

1. Tap "Open destination in Google Maps" below, then Directions → Walking.
2. Walk to Harumi-dori (2 minutes from the hotel), then follow it east through the Ginza 4-chome crossing, past the Wako clock tower and Mitsukoshi.
3. Keep straight on Harumi-dori past the Kabukiza theater and over the bridge, about 10 minutes.
4. At the big Tsukiji 4-chome crossing the market streets start on the corner. Follow the map into the lanes.

Food & cost

Choose filling egg-based options such as tamagoyaki and an egg sandwich, plus coffee. Onigiri is optional, not required. Have a backup sandwich if your preferred stalls are not open yet.

7:30–9:00am JST · Tsukiji Outer Market, graze + browse

Eat your way through breakfast and browse. Tuesday is a regular market day and most stalls are open by 7:30. Until 9am, chefs and buyers get priority, so eat at the shop rather than while walking.

Food & cost

Graze two or three stops, like tamagoyaki, an onigiri and a coffee. The restaurant guide (Tue · Tsukiji breakfast) lists stops open that early.

9:00am JST · Train to Harajuku

Hibiya Line 3 stops, change to the Chiyoda Line at Hibiya (no extra gate), then 6 stops to Meiji-jingumae (Harajuku).

Getting there

1. Back at Tsukiji Station, tap in and go to Platform 1, "for Naka-meguro".
2. Ride 3 stops and get off at Hibiya.
3. Follow the green "C" (Chiyoda Line) signs, about 4–5 minutes on foot inside the station. You do not tap again.
4. Go to Platform 3, "for Yoyogi-uehara". Any train is fine, even ones showing an Odakyu destination like Hon-Atsugi or Isehara.
5. Ride 6 stops and get off at Meiji-jingumae 〈Harajuku〉.
6. Take Exit 2. The big wooden torii gate of Meiji Jingu is about 3–4 minutes away, next to JR Harajuku Station.

~9:30–10:30am JST · Meiji Jingu shrine

A 10-minute walk from Harajuku Station into a forested shrine: one of Tokyo's top sights, and free. It fills the gap while the shops open. No religious participation is needed.

10:30am–12:30pm JST · Shopping: Harajuku → Omotesando

Takeshita Street and most Omotesando shops open 10:30–11:00. Browse Takeshita Street and selected character-goods or fashion stops.

~11:00am · during shopping JST · I'm donut? + Marion Crepes, Harajuku

Both treats are on the shopping route: I'm donut? by Harajuku Station, then a Marion crêpe on Takeshita Street. Walk-in; short lines are normal.

Food & cost

One doughnut and one crêpe each is plenty before lunch.

12:30–1:30pm JST · Harajuku Gyozaro

Your chosen lunch: pan-fried and boiled gyoza with rice and a couple of sides, a few minutes from Omotesando. Walk-in only; expect a short line at 12:30, and it turns over fast.

Food & cost

Two orders of gyoza each plus rice; cheap and quick.

1:30–3:00pm JST · Browse on foot toward Shibuya

Continue through the shopping corridor toward Shibuya. Allow roughly 25–40 minutes for a direct walk, longer with browsing; use transit if tired. The rest is free time in Shibuya before the crossing.

Getting there

1. From the Harajuku side, cross Jingu-bashi bridge and head south past the Yoyogi National Gymnasium.
2. Continue down Fire-dori to Tower Records.
3. Keep straight along Jingu-dori to Shibuya Station and the Scramble Crossing. About 18 minutes of walking without stops.

3:00–3:30pm JST · Shibuya Crossing + browse

Enjoy the crossing, then head to the Shibuya Sky entrance by 3:25 to allow time for the elevator and entry queue. Your booked admission window is 3:40–3:59pm.

3:40–5:15pm JST · Shibuya Sky at sunset

Arrive by 3:25pm

Booked: 2 adult tickets, entry between 3:40 and 3:59pm, ¥6,800 paid. The time slot is only for getting in; once you are up there you can stay through sunset (about 4:55pm) and the city lights coming on.

> Keep in mind
>
> Wind or rain can close the rooftop. Check the operator's current operating notice and your ticket's change/refund terms; do not assume indoor admission guarantees rooftop access.

Getting there

1. Shibuya Sky is on top of the Shibuya Scramble Square tower, right at Shibuya Station.
2. Use the dedicated "SHIBUYA SKY" elevator at street level (1F), outside the building on the east side, facing Shibuya Hikarie. About 5 minutes from the crossing.
3. Ride it to 14F, show your ticket QR code, and follow the line up to the rooftop.
4. Do not go to the "Sky Lobby" in Shibuya Hikarie (11F); that is a different place.

Good to know

Screenshot the QR code now: Webket cannot resend the confirmation email. It is also in your Webket "My Page" purchase history. Before the open-air rooftop you will be asked to put bags and loose items in the lockers.

~5:30pm JST · Uobei conveyor belt sushi, Shibuya

Your chosen dinner, in Dogenzaka, a short walk from the crossing: order on the touchscreen and the sushi races to you on express lanes. Walk-in only, open until 11pm; go straight there after Shibuya Sky and allow a queue. Aim to be home by 8; the departure below is flexible.

Food & cost

Plates from ¥110; ¥1,500–3,000 each for a full meal.

~6:30pm JST · Shibuya → hotel

The Ginza Line from Shibuya runs straight to Ginza. Shibuya is the first stop, so every train goes the right way.

Getting there

1. Walk 8–10 minutes to the Ginza Line at Shibuya Station. It is up high (3F) on the east, Meiji-dori side; follow the orange "G" signs.
2. Tap in and get on any train ("for Asakusa").
3. Ride 8 stops (about 16 minutes) and get off at Ginza.
4. Follow the signs for Exit B6. Come up at Exit B6 (or B5) on Harumi-dori. Walk along Namiki-dori away from Harumi-dori, cross Miyuki-dori, and the hotel is just ahead on the right, about 3 minutes. Lobby elevators at street level go up to reception on 4F.

Wed Oct 28: A day just for us

6:15am JST · FamilyMart breakfast

The 24-hour FamilyMart at Ginza 5-9-13, 4 minutes from the hotel: sandwich, yogurt and a drink. Eat it on the Romancecar; eating on board is normal.

Food & cost

A filling egg or ham sandwich, yogurt or fruit, and a drink. Add a pastry if needed.

6:40am JST · Head to Shinjuku for the Romancecar

Marunouchi Line from Ginza straight to Shinjuku, 8 stops, then the Odakyu gate. You are on the Romancecar platform around 7:15 for the 7:37 departure.

Getting there

1. Leave the hotel, turn left on Namiki-dori, cross Miyuki-dori, and go down Ginza Station Exit B6 at the Harumi-dori corner (about 3 minutes). Follow the red "M" (Marunouchi Line) signs, a few minutes through the station.
2. Tap in and go to Platform 3, signed "for Shinjuku / Ogikubo". Trains showing "Honancho" also stop at Shinjuku.
3. Ride 8 stops (about 16 minutes) and get off at Shinjuku.
4. Follow the "Odakyu Line" signs to the Odakyu West Exit Underground Gate. Tap your phone there; that pays the base fare.
5. Follow the departure board for Hakone 41 at 7:37 (planned Platform 2; confirm on the day). Find car 6, seats 12C and 12D.

Good to know

Keep the 6:40 departure. Do not rely on a later departure: allow for the station walk and Shinjuku construction. Follow the Odakyu / Romancecar signs and verify the departure platform on the board.

7:37am JST · Romancecar Hakone 41: Shinjuku → Hakone-Yumoto

Arrive by 7:15am at Odakyu

Booked: Hakone 41, car 6, seats 12C and 12D, arriving Hakone-Yumoto 9:22. Board by showing the purchase page on your phone; carry the credit card you paid with (your Visa card) in case staff ask. The ticket covers your reserved seats only, so tap Suica at the gates for the base fare (about ¥1,270 each).

Getting there

1. Platform 2 at Odakyu Shinjuku. Find car 6 (the car number is on the platform floor and on the train door).
2. Sit in seats 12C and 12D. Have the purchase page open on your phone in case staff check.
3. Eat your FamilyMart breakfast on board; that is normal on the Romancecar.
4. Ride to the end of the line, Hakone-Yumoto (arrives 9:22).

Good to know

Open e-Romancecar → Confirm booking using your private booking details. If you need to change trains, check availability and the applicable fare/terms before departure; do not assume a replacement train has seats.

9:40am JST · Free shuttle to Hakone Yuryo

The free Hakone Yuryo shuttle bus. With the 9:22 arrival, the next one leaves at 9:40. You arrive around 9:45; the baths open at 10:00.

Getting there

1. Get off the Romancecar at Platform 1 and go up to the 2F ticket gate. Tap your phone to exit.
2. Walk along the covered walkway to the uphill end of the station (away from Odawara).
3. Take the stairs or escalator down to street level. The free shuttle stop is at the bottom, on the station side; the small bus says "Hakone Yuryo". Do not cross the main road. If unsure, ask any staff member: "Hakone Yuryo shuttle?"
4. Ride about 3 minutes to Hakone Yuryo.

Good to know

If you are unsure, ask any station staff: "Hakone Yuryo shuttle?" They see it every day. Phone: 0460-85-8411.

10:00am–Noon JST · Private open-air onsen · 120 min

Arrive by 9:45am

Booked for Wednesday October 28 at 10:00am: a private outdoor bath for just the two of you, 120 minutes. ¥10,400 for the room, tax included, paid on site; the card on TableCheck only holds it. Arriving 15+ minutes late without calling cancels it. Yukata rental ¥100 each, optional.

Good to know

No swimsuits in the private bath. Confirm any changes or cancellation terms using your private TableCheck confirmation; call +81-460-85-8411 when online changes are unavailable.

12:30pm JST · Hachiri irori course, Hakone Yuryo

Booked for Wednesday October 28 at 12:30pm: the Seasonal course for two, ¥6,000 each, at Irorisaryo Hachiri, the spa's charcoal-hearth restaurant. Paid on site.

Food & cost

Seasonal irori course: grilled seafood and seasonal vegetables, a grilled river fish, tea soba and dessert. Drinks are extra.

Good to know

Arriving 15+ minutes late without contacting them cancels the booking, and same-day cancellation isn't accepted.

1:45pm JST · Couples massage · 60 min

Booked for Wednesday October 28 at 1:45pm: two 60-minute body-care massages side by side at Yururuka, the spa’s massage room, right after lunch. ¥7,900 each, paid on site, which is why nothing was charged at booking.

> ### Keep in mind
>
> Before treatment: settle all charges if the front desk permits, collect your belongings, and confirm the 2:55pm shuttle. Tell staff you have the 3:13pm train.

Good to know

Avoid alcohol at lunch and flag any medical considerations when you check in.

2:45pm ready · 2:55pm shuttle JST · Shuttle back for the 3:13

Romancecar

Massage ends at 2:45. The published spa-to-station shuttle is 2:55pm, taking about 3 minutes; the following 3:10 bus is too tight for your 3:13 train. Confirm the timetable that morning. Your booked Hakone 36 departs 3:13, car 5 seats 5C/5D, and reaches Shinjuku 4:46. Tap Suica for the base fare.

> Keep in mind
>
> Be ready outside by 2:50 for the 2:55 shuttle. This is a tight connection, not a relaxed checkout window. If delayed, ask reception immediately for help and contact Ushigoro if dinner arrival is affected.

Getting there

1. Settle the bill before the massage if permitted; otherwise arrange the fastest checkout with reception in the morning.
2. Be at the shuttle stop by 2:50pm for the published 2:55 departure. Confirm service that morning.
3. Go up to the station’s 2F ticket gate and tap your phone; that pays the base fare.
4. Follow the "Romancecar / for Shinjuku" signs. Your train is Hakone 36 at 3:13. Find car 5, seats 5C and 5D.
5. Ride to the end of the line, Shinjuku (arrives 4:46).

Food & cost

Small train snack if needed; dinner is at 5:30.

Good to know

If you cannot catch the train, check the next actual departure and seat availability with Odakyu. Do not assume the 3:52 train or replacement seats are available, or use the restaurant's late-arrival allowance as a planned buffer.

5:30pm JST · Yakiniku Ushigoro, Shinjuku 3-chome

Arrive by 5:20pm

Booked for Wednesday October 28 at 5:30pm: A5 kuroge wagyu yakiniku, staff-guided at your table, 12th floor beside Kinokuniya, about 10 minutes' walk from the Romancecar platforms. Courses ¥9,760–16,590 a person plus 5% service. The 3D cat at Cross Shinjuku Vision is on the way if you want the photo.

Getting there

1. From the Romancecar, leave Odakyu Shinjuku by the West Exit gate (ground level, or the B1 underground gate).
2. On B1, walk east through the "East-West Free Passage" (signed in English), a wide 100 m walkway under JR Shinjuku with no ticket gates.
3. Come up at the East Exit and walk east along Shinjuku-dori for about 2 minutes.
4. Turn left into the side street just before THE SUIT COMPANY. The HULIC &New SHINJUKU building is about 30 m along on the right.
5. Take the elevator to 12F (not 11F, which is a different Ushigoro). About 6–10 minutes in all.

Food & cost

Courses for two: ¥20,496–34,839 including the stated 5% service charge, before drinks. Confirm your selected course and final bill.

Good to know

Changes and cancellations are by phone only: +81-3-3358-4129. Arriving 30+ minutes late without calling cancels the table.

~7:30pm JST · Train back to Ginza

Marunouchi Line from Shinjuku-sanchome straight to Ginza, 7 stops.

Getting there

1. From Ushigoro, walk about 5 minutes east on Shinjuku-dori (toward Isetan) to Shinjuku-sanchome Station and go down a red "M" Marunouchi Line entrance.
2. Tap in and go to Platform 2, signed "for Ikebukuro".
3. Ride 7 stops (about 14 minutes) and get off at Ginza.
4. Follow the signs for Exit B6. Come up at Exit B6 (or B5) on Harumi-dori. Walk along Namiki-dori away from Harumi-dori, cross Miyuki-dori, and the hotel is just ahead on the right, about 3 minutes. Lobby elevators at street level go up to reception on 4F.

Thu Oct 29: One last taste of Tokyo

Before breakfast JST · Pack + store bags at the hotel

Pack, check out at reception (check-out is noon) and leave your bags with the front desk. Carry only the day bag.

8:05am JST · Walk to Hoshino Coffee in Yaesu

An easy walk up Chuo-dori to Tokyo Station's Yaesu side. The café is in the Yaesu Underground Mall below the station. Confirm with the branch that full soufflé pancakes are available at 8:30; breakfast opening does not guarantee the all-day menu. If not, choose a filling toast/egg morning set rather than waiting until lunch service.

Getting there

1. Tap "Open destination in Google Maps" below, then Directions → Walking.
2. Walk to Chuo-dori and head north through the Ginza 4-chome crossing (Wako clock tower and Mitsukoshi), then on through Kyobashi toward Tokyo Station's Yaesu (east) side.
3. Go down into the Yaesu Underground Mall (signs say "Yaesu Shopping Mall" or "Yaechika") and follow the map to Hoshino Coffee.

8:30–9:30am JST · Hoshino Coffee, Yaesu underground (soufflé pancakes)

Oven-baked soufflé pancakes and coffee in the Yaesu underground mall at Tokyo Station, a 20-minute walk from the hotel; opens 8:00, no reservations. Then walk back down Chuo-dori to the Ginza shops.

Food & cost

One soufflé pancake stack each with coffee.

9:35am JST · Walk back to Ginza

A straight walk south along Chuo-dori to Ginza.

Getting there

1. Come up from the Yaesu Underground Mall to street level.
2. Tap "Open destination in Google Maps" below, then Directions → Walking.
3. Walk south to Chuo-dori and follow it into Ginza (about 15–20 minutes). Mitsukoshi, where lunch is at 11:00, is at the Ginza 4-chome crossing.

10:00–10:50am JST · Shopping: Ginza

Browse nearby shops that are actually open; individual opening times vary. You are walking back from Yaesu, not taking the Ginza Line from Tokyo Station (Tokyo Station is served by the Marunouchi Line). Keep the 11:00 lunch and airport departure protected.

11:00–11:45am JST · Hitsumabushi Bincho, Ginza Mitsukoshi

Grilled eel over rice, eaten three ways (plain, with condiments, then with dashi poured over). Ginza Mitsukoshi 11F; 11:00 is the first lunch seating. Arriving more than 15 minutes late without calling cancels the booking.

> Keep in mind
>
> Still marked unbooked in this itinerary. Verify whether you have already reserved; otherwise reserve or choose a quick nearby fallback. Do not risk the airport departure to wait for a table.

Food & cost

One hitsumabushi set each; allow ¥4,500–6,500 per person as a planning estimate. Confirm the booked menu.

11:50am JST · Collect your bags at the hotel

A 6-minute walk from Mitsukoshi. Pick up your bags at the front desk.

Getting there

1. From Mitsukoshi at the Ginza 4-chome crossing, walk along Harumi-dori toward Sukiyabashi, two blocks to Namiki-dori, about 3 minutes (open the map).
2. Turn left onto Namiki-dori, cross Miyuki-dori, and the hotel is just ahead on the right. Take the lobby elevator up and collect your bags.

~12:20pm JST · Train to Haneda Airport

Leave with bags about 12:20pm. Walk about 9 minutes to Higashi-ginza, then use a direct train whose display confirms Haneda Airport and Terminal 3. Allow roughly 50–60 minutes door to door. Check live departures rather than relying on a hard-coded timetable.

Getting there

1. With your bags, walk to Harumi-dori and follow it east past the Ginza 4-chome crossing to the Showa-dori crossing (Mihara-bashi), about 7 minutes. Cross Showa-dori to the Kabukiza theater side (open the map).

2. Take the street elevator at Higashi-ginza Exit 3 (Kabukiza) down to the station.
3. Follow the signs for the Toei Asakusa Line and tap in at the gate on the Kabukiza side. It leads to Platform 1, signed "for Nishi-magome / Haneda Airport".
4. Board a train whose board and side display say "Haneda Airport".
5. Ride about 31 minutes and get off at "Haneda Airport Terminal 3", the first airport stop.
6. Follow the signs up to 3F Departures and check in with Delta.

Good to know

Only board trains whose board says "Haneda Airport". Departure boards switch between Japanese and English every few seconds, so wait a moment for the English. Trains to Misakiguchi or Nishi-magome go elsewhere: let them pass, the next airport train is 10–20 minutes away. Airport trains end at "Haneda Airport Terminal 1·2", so get off at the FIRST airport stop, Terminal 3.

~1:15–4:30pm JST · Haneda Terminal 3: check in + duty-free

Check in and drop bags, then Edo Koji (4F, before security) for a snack if you want one, and duty-free airside for last souvenirs. Be at the gate by about 4:35pm.

Food & cost

Snacks only; lunch was Bincho.

5:20pm JST · Tokyo Haneda (HND) → Minneapolis (MSP) · DL120

Delta DL120, Airbus A350-900. 11 hours 8 minutes. Crossing the date line eastward gains back the hours you lost — you leave Thursday afternoon Japan time and arrive Thursday afternoon Minneapolis time.

Food & cost

Full meal service on the long-haul home.

Good to know

Sleep as much as you can on the return. You'll arrive in Minneapolis the same day.

2:28pm CDT · Layover in Minneapolis (MSP)

Your first U.S. arrival: follow immigration, baggage/customs and connecting-flight security signs before heading to the Tampa gate. Plan to collect and recheck checked bags unless Delta/CBP explicitly instruct you that your flight qualifies for a baggage-transfer exception. The 4 hr 31 min connection allows time for this.

Food & cost

Have a meal here if hungry — decent airport dining options in MSP.

6:59pm CDT · Minneapolis (MSP) → Tampa (TPA) · DL2385

Delta DL2385, Airbus A321. 3 hours 11 minutes home.

Good to know

You arrive Tampa at 11:10pm Thursday. Welcome home, Aaron.
